Reuven Levin
White Paper
11/20/2022

1. Movies +
2. We sell movie tickets at the lowest price.
3. Movie tickets
4. Our company provides service for everyone
5. Our discount prices for students, veterans, and disabled are at lowest.
6. General information for the movie is provided underneath its listing.
7. Some might not be familiar with the movie, therefore we input general information.
8. The time sensitive information is listed by the overview along with the release date.
9. Any information on the movie is listed on the website
10. Contact is not required. There is a contact section on our website along with a customer representative.
11. Our movies are newly released and popular to the public eye
12. Background information is not needed for our movies but if you like you can always check the overview.
13. We offer discounts and special offers depending on the season
14. Our company's students , veterans. and disabled deals are no match for other companies.
15. All common questions asked are located at the bottom of the page by the FAQ section

Visual Hierarchy for my website

The top of the website includes our title with a purple background padding with our slogan underneath it. Then our navigation bar which fades with the website background. Then a table which includes our ticket prices. Then a search bar to navigate. After is our list of movies to choose from along with its overview and rating. In the footer is our FAQs, website logo, customer service, about us, and newsletter.

Visual Hierarchy for Regmovies.com

On the top is an orange logo, login option, search bar, and nav bar(which lists different options and has the same logo color). Underneath, is a rotating image effect with a list of movie ads. Then there are many categories with lists of movies to choose from. On the bottom there is a deals section then an about and contact section.The whole page contains a black background.